A1. What has happened to Provident? / Why did the Receivership come about?	We were appointed on 3 July 2012 as joint and several Receivers of Provident Capital Limited (Provident or the Company) pursuant to an Order of the Federal Court of Australia. We were subsequently appointed as joint and several Receivers and Managers to the Company on 10 July 2012 pursuant to a fixed and floating charge granted by the Company in favour of Australian Executor Trustees Limited (AET). In February 2012, following extensive discussions with the Company and the ASIC, AET engaged PPB Advisory to prepare an independent expert report which was issued in March 2012. This report highlighted a potential deficiency of assets to meet liabilities. The Company subsequently issued an Information Booklet on 4 April 2012 which included its financial results for the six months to 31 December 2011, Provident reported a loss of $9.091M. This loss was largely the result of the Company increasing its provisions against the carrying values of its loans and advances. Given the financial position of the Company and in order to protect all Debentureholders' interests, AET applied to the Federal Court, for leave to appoint Receivers to the Company. In doing so, AET has ensured that all Debentureholders would be treated equally.
A2. What is a Receivership?	Receivership is an insolvency procedure where if a company is in financial difficulty, a secured creditor or the Court may put the company into the hands of an independent party. For more information regarding the Receivership process, please visit www.asic.gov.au.

Provident Capital Limited
(Receivers Appointed) (In Liquidation)
("Provident" or "the Company")

A3. What is the role of the Receivers?	Our role as Receivers in this case is to act as an independent party to take control of the property of Provident in order to ensure that the property is protected in the interests of all Debentureholders. As Receivers we are empowered to administer the property and manage Provident. We were appointed as Receivers pursuant to an Order of the Federal Court of Australia for the purpose of recovering assets subject to security held by AET on behalf of all Debentureholders. This security entitled the Debentureholders to be paid in priority to other pre-Receivership claims, except for certain employee claims.
A4. What is the implication of the Receivership?	Our role as Receivers is to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• collect and sell enough of the assets subject to the security to repay the debts owed to Debentureholders. This may include selling assets or the Company's business</li> <li>• pay out the money collected in the order required by law</li> <li>• report to the ASIC any possible offences or other irregular matters they come across.</li> </ul> Our primary duty as Receivers is to the Company's secured creditors. We will report to Debentureholders and the Court on the status of the Receivership process regularly.
A5. Who are the current appointees?	Messrs Marcus Ayres, Philip Carter and Tony Sims were initially appointed as joint and several Receivers by the Court on 3 July 2012. Each of these appointees have since retired. Daniel Walley and Andrew Scott were appointed on 30 November 2020 as Receivers pursuant to Orders of the Federal Court of Australia.
A6. What has happened to PPB Advisory?	As of 1 August 2018, we confirm that PPB Advisory merged with PwC Australia. PwC is a network of firms in 157 countries with more than 223,000 people who are committed to delivering quality in assurance, advisory and tax services. As a result of the merger all previous publications regarding the Receivership of Provident are available on our website at https://www.pwc.com.au/business-restructuring/insolvency-cases/4021.html. Visitors to the PPB Advisory website will otherwise be automatically redirected to the PwC website.

(Receivers Appointed) (In Liquidation)
("Provident" or "the Company")

A7. Who are the Liquidators and why were they appointed?	On 18 September 2012, Tony McGrath and Joseph Hayes of McGrath Nicol were appointed as joint and several Voluntary Administrators by AET pursuant to Section 436C of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth). Subsequently, on 24 October 2012, creditors of Provident resolved that the Company be wound up and that Messrs McGrath and Hayes to be appointed as its joint and several Liquidators. The Liquidation of Provident allows for a comprehensive investigation into the Company's affairs to be completed. This may provide opportunities for us to pursue actions against various third parties which could give rise to future recoveries to repay Debentureholder claims. It also allows unsecured creditors to lodge their claim against the Company. As all Debentureholders are secured creditors by virtue of AET's security interest, individual Debentureholders are not required to prove their claim in the Liquidation, nor are they required to vote at any meeting of creditors. Rather AET in its capacity as security trustee will represent all Debentureholders in the Liquidation process. Control of the Company's assets and business operations will otherwise remain with the Receivers and Managers. Any updates on the status of the Receivership will be communicated directly to Debentureholders via post or on our website.
A8. Is Provident continuing to trade?	Given the loan portfolio that was funded by the Debentureholders was largely non-performing, we determined that it was appropriate to cease business activities whilst they worked through the issues within the loan portfolio so that they could best determine the means to maximise returns to Debentureholders. We retained some Provident staff to assist in achieving these goals. Please note that the above commentary pertains to Provident's lending activities only which were funded by the Debentureholders. Mortgage holders and unit holders in MIF and HYF should review separate Q&amp;A information sheets in respect of Provident's ongoing business activities.
A9. What was the outcome of our investigations? What has happened to Provident's	We undertook an extensive investigation program into the causes of Provident's collapse. In particular, we have assessed the conduct of Provident's directors (which involved public examinations) and whether their conduct forms the basis for any claim which could be pursued to increase the return to Debentureholders. The outcome of our public examinations, coupled with our forensic and manual review of the Company's books and records, revealed that many

directors?	of the circumstances surrounding Provident's affairs and in particular the adverse characteristics of many of its loans were not properly considered by Provident's directors, nor were they adequately disclosed to Debentureholders, AET and ASIC. Having regard to the outcome of our investigation program, we consider that Provident's directors have, amongst other conduct: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• failed to appropriately manage and assess the value of impaired assets; and</li><li>• failed to identify and report substantial failures to comply with prudent lending and provisioning processes.</li></ul> We commenced proceedings against Provident's directors for a breach of their duties of care and diligence in managing the affairs of Provident in February 2014. Provident's claim is detailed in a statement of claim that was filed on 1 December 2014 with the Supreme Court of NSW (which is available on our website at https://www.pwc.com.au/business-restructuring/insolvency-cases/4021.html). We successfully reached a settlement of our proceedings against the directors for breach of their duties of care and diligence for amount of $14 million on a no admissions basis. We finalised terms of settlement with the directors and related parties on 5 September 2017, with settlement funds being received on 3 October 2017. The proceedings were formally discontinued on 12 October 2017. We further advise that ASIC have since imposed the following penalties on Provident's directors for breach of their duties as directors and a failure to comply with financial services laws: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Michael O'Sullivan, Provident's Managing Director, has been banned from managing a corporation for five years and from providing financial services for seven years</li><li>• John Sweeney, one of Provident's non-executive directors, has been banned from providing financial services for two years</li><li>• Trevor John Seymour, one of Provident's non-executive directors, from managing corporations and providing financial services for three years</li><li>• Malcolm Bersten, one of Provident's executive directors and in-house legal counsel, from managing corporations and providing financial services for five years.</li></ul> On 2 May 2017, the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) upheld ASIC's decision that Mr O'Sullivan be disqualified from managing corporations for five years and from providing financial services for seven

	years. Mr O’Sullivan’s appeal to the AAT was defeated on 2 May 2017 as the AAT upheld ASIC’s decision. Mr O’Sullivan has since made an appeal to the Federal Court. On 7 March 2018, the Federal Court found in favour of ASIC and dismissed Mr O’Sullivan’s challenge to the banning. The AAT has amended Mr Bersten’s period of disqualification from managing corporations from five years to four years and his period of disqualification from providing financial services from five years to three years and nine months.
A10. What are the next steps?	We have realised all of Provident’s assets (including its loan portfolios) and settled all litigated proceedings. The sale of the final security property completed in December 2020 which enabled Debentureholders to receive a distribution of 2 cents in respect to the face value of their debenture on 9 February 2021. A further distribution of 0.39 cents was paid on 29 June 2021. We are currently awaiting a potential distribution from the Bankrupt Estate of Silvana Perovich before we finalise the Receivership. Debentureholders will be contacted if a distribution becomes payable, otherwise they will receive no further contact. Further details are contained in our report to Debentureholders dated 28 June 2021.
A11. What is the current status of the proceedings against Provident’s directors?	We reached a settlement of our proceedings against the directors for breach of their duties of care and diligence for amount of $14 million on a no admissions basis. We finalised terms of settlement with the directors and related parties on 5 September 2017, with settlement funds being received on 3 October 2017. The proceedings were formally discontinued on 12 October 2017.
A12. Who is CFA and what is their relationship with Maurice Blackburn Lawyers?	CFA is a special purpose vehicle, the beneficial interests in which are owned by the principals of Maurice Blackburn Lawyers, established for the purposes of funding litigation claims. Maurice Blackburn Lawyers is one of Australia’s leading social justice law firms with a strong track record in managing large and complex litigation cases, including some of Australia’s landmark decisions. CFA similarly has a strong record in successfully funding complex litigation cases often in insolvency, similar to the proceedings against Provident’s directors.

A22. Was tax withheld from my distribution?	An interim distribution of 100 cents in the dollar of interest accrued but unpaid as at 3 July 2012 on all debentures (whether interest was paid periodically or on maturity) was made on 11 January 2013. As this distribution was for interest accrued, withholding tax was deducted where applicable. This assessment was made from the Company's records. Subsequent distributions to Debentureholders represent the partial return of principal. These amounts are not subject to withholding tax. All Debentureholders have been issued an annual tax statement in respect of their income distributions for the 2012/13 financial year.
A23. Will future distributions be a return of principal or interest?	All future distributions (if any) will be the return of principal. Accordingly, these amounts will not be subject to withholding tax.
A24. Can we make redemption requests during the Receivership period?	No – as a consequence of our appointment, redemptions of debentures will not be processed. This is to ensure that all Debentureholders are treated fairly and in accordance with the Trust Deed. This regrettably includes situations of hardship. Whilst noting the above, we are very conscious of the impact of the appointment and will be working toward making distributions to Debentureholders as early as possible.
A25. Are the Receivers getting paid?	The Trust Deed and Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) recognises that the costs of the Receivership take a priority before any other payments are made.
A26. Will we still get our year-end tax statements?	Annual tax statements for the period ending 30 June 2012 were issued to Debentureholders in late September 2012. Debentureholders have now been issued a tax statement for the period ending 30 June 2013. Subsequent distributions to Debentureholders represent the partial return of principal. Accordingly, these amounts are not subject to withholding tax and no further tax statements will be issued.

(Receivers Appointed) (In Liquidation)
("Provident" or "the Company")

A27. Will I receive a statement of capital loss/gain?	Enclosed with our updated dated 28 June 2021, was a letter to Debentureholders from the Liquidators of Provident stating they have reasonable grounds to believe that following this month's distribution, the debentures have no further value pursuant to section 104.145 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. Link can provide confirmation of the principal value of your debenture at our appointment as well as an accounting of distributions paid to date. Whether you make a capital gain or a capital loss, and the amount of any such gain or loss, will depend on your particular facts and circumstances. Generally speaking, however, if you hold debentures that have paid interest periodically, any final capital gain or capital loss that you make may now potentially be crystallised. If, however, you hold debentures that would have paid interest at maturity, then your tax position is less clear as the tax rules are quite complex with respect to these debentures. Among other things, the outcome will depend on any tax elections you have made with respect to the debentures, and how you have previously applied, and continue to apply, the tax rules to your debentures. In this instance, you should seek advice from your accountant or tax adviser for more complete advice specific to your circumstances. In either case, the amount of any capital gain or capital loss will depend on a number of factors, including the amount you initially invested, and any further or final returns of capital. Importantly, we strongly recommended that you seek the advice of your accountant or tax adviser as to how the tax rules apply in your particular circumstances.
